

Active Learning

A half day workshop

Active learning is "a method of learning in which students are actively or experientially involved in the learning process and where there are different levels of active learning, depending on student involvement." Bonwell & Eison (1991) states that "students participate [in active learning] when they are doing something besides passively listening."

In this session we'll look at:

- Active learning and teaching creative lessons
- How to adapt and differentiate to support high SEN needs/challenging behaviour
- Progressive order questioning
- Study Skills and ways to build memorising skills - short and long term

Can Do Courses
Providers of training in education